		Aunt Sarah's Earring

"This new shopping complex is huge!" said Suki.

"Yes," said Aunt Sarah. "It's bigger than the old complex and it's nicer too. There are four escalators and a lift. It opened yesterday. It's already bustling with people."

"I need a new laptop," said Uncle Zack. "Stay with Aunt Sarah, Suki. We mustn't lose you."

He went into the computer shop. Suki and Aunt Sarah waited outside. Suki looked around. There were lots of people shopping. She looked at the floor. Suddenly, she saw a small grey ring. She picked up the ring. It was made of metal but wasn't shiny. She put it in her pocket and forgot all about it.

Uncle Zack came back with his new laptop. From there they went to the clothes shop. Aunt Sarah wanted a new scarf. She tried on a pretty blue scarf round her neck and went to look at the mirror.

"Oh no!" she said. "My earring! It's missing! We must go back to the computer shop."

They looked for the missing earring on the floor outside the computer shop but they did not find it. Then, Suki heard a sob. A small boy was crying by himself.

"Oh dear! What's the matter?" asked Suki.

"I dropped my new car," said the boy. "And I lost a piece and now it cannot move properly." He cried and a big tear fell on the floor.

"Did you, by any chance, lose a ring?" Suki asked. "Yes," said the boy. "I looked on the floor but I didn't find it. I found this but it isn't mine." The boy had a shiny silver ring in his hand.

"That's Aunt Sarah's earring!" exclaimed Suki. She extracted the grey metal ring from her pocket and asked the boy, "Is this yours?" she asked.

The boy's eyes shone when he saw the grey ring in Suki's hand. He immediately fixed the ring into his car. "Yes," he said. "Thank you."

Suki took the earring to Aunt Sarah. She was so glad to have it back. "Now let's have a nice cup of tea in the café," she said.

"Just a minute," said Uncle Zack. "My new laptop! It's in the clothes shop!"

"Oh, no!" said Suki. "Everyone is losing things today!"
